(e) DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES.—

(1) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(A) while significant progress has occurred due to the establishment of the disadvantaged business enterprise program, social and economic disadvantage and related barriers continue to pose significant obstacles for businesses owned by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals seeking to do business in federally assisted surface transportation markets across the United States;

(B) the continuing barriers described in subparagraph (A) merit the continuation of the disadvantaged business enterprise program;

(C) Congress has received and reviewed documentation of the effects of social and economic disadvantage on individuals seeking to do business in federally assisted surface transportation markets from numerous sources, including congressional hearings and roundtables, scientific and other reports, news stories, written statements of barriers to participation by disadvantaged business owners, and related lawsuits, which show that efforts that fail to specifically consider socially and economically disadvantaged individuals are insufficient to address the problem;

(D) the documentation described in subparagraph (C) demonstrates that barriers remain for the full and fair participation in surface transportation-related businesses of socially and economically disadvantaged business owners and has impacted firm development and many aspects of surface transportation-related business in the public and private markets; and

(E) the documentation described in subparagraph (C) provides a strong basis that there is a compelling need for the continuation of the disadvantaged business enterprise program.

(2) SMALL BUSINESS CONCERN DEFINED.—In this subsection:

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ''small business concern'' means a small business concern (as the term is used in section 3 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 632)).

(B) EXCLUSIONS.—The term ''small business concern'' does not include any concern or group of concerns controlled by the same socially and economically disadvantaged individual or individuals that have average annual gross receipts during the preceding 3 fiscal years in excess of $31,840,000, as adjusted annually by the Secretary for inflation.

(3) AMOUNTS FOR SMALL BUSINESS CONCERNS.—A national, aspirational goal of not less than 10 percent of the amounts made available for any program under titles I, II, III, and VI of this Act and section 403 of title 23, United States Code, shall be set for expenditure through good faith efforts by recipients of Federal financial assistance through small business concerns owned and controlled by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals.

(4) DEVELOPMENT OF OBJECTIVE CRITERIA.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall develop and publish objective criteria to establish how State governments and unified certification programs will evaluate whether an individual qualifies as socially and economically disadvantaged under the program.

(B) CONSIDERATIONS.—The criteria developed under subparagraph (A)—

(i) shall include the ability for an individual to demonstrate social and economic disadvantage by submitting evidence that would support a finding of the types of discrimination prohibited under Federal law; and

(ii) shall include the ability for an individual to submit evidence of specific instances of economic hardship, systemic barriers, and denied opportunities that impeded the individual from achieving educational progress or success, employment opportunities, or business opportunities (including access to capital).

(C) PERIODIC REVISION.—The Secretary may periodically revise the objective criteria developed under subparagraph (A).

(5) ANNUAL LISTING OF DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES.—Each State shall annually—

(A) survey and compile a list of the small business concerns referred to in paragraph (3) in the State, including the location of the small business concerns in the State;

(C) provide the Secretary with such other information as the Secretary may require regarding the administration of the disadvantaged business enterprise program.

(6) UNIFORM CERTIFICATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish minimum uniform criteria for use by State governments in certifying whether a concern qualifies as a small business concern for the purpose of this subsection.

(B) INCLUSIONS.—The minimum uniform criteria established under subparagraph (A) shall include, with respect to a potential small business concern—

(i) on-site visits;

(ii) personal interviews with personnel;

(iii) issuance or inspection of licenses;

(iv) analyses of stock ownership;

(v) listings of equipment;

(vi) analyses of bonding capacity;

(vii) listings of work completed;

(viii) examination of the resumes of principal owners;

(ix) analyses of financial capacity; and

(x) analyses of the type of work preferred.

(7) REPORTING.—The Secretary shall establish minimum requirements for use by State governments in reporting to the Secretary—

(A) information concerning disadvantaged business enterprise awards, commitments, and achievements;

(B) the process utilized and progress made by each unified certification program in the State to evaluate and recertify or decertify a small business concern under the criteria set by the Secretary, including periodic revision of the criteria for certification;

(C) the number of existing small business concerns recertified or decertified in fiscal years 2026 through 2031; and

(D) such other information as the Secretary determines to be appropriate for the proper monitoring of the disadvantaged business enterprise program.

(8) COMPLIANCE WITH COURT ORDERS.—Nothing in this subsection limits the eligibility of an individual or entity to receive funds made available under titles I, II, III, and VI of this Act and section 403 of title 23, United States Code, if the entity or person is prevented, in whole or in part, from complying with paragraph (3) because a Federal court issues a final order in which the court finds that a requirement or the implementation of paragraph (3) is unconstitutional.

(9) SENSE OF CONGRESS ON PROMPT PAYMENT OF DBE SUBCONTRACTORS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(A) the Secretary should take additional steps to ensure that recipients comply with section 26.29 of title 49, Code of Federal Regulations (the disadvantaged business enterprises prompt payment rule), or any corresponding regulation, in awarding federally funded transportation contracts under laws and regulations administered by the Secretary; and

(B) such additional steps should include increasing the Department's ability to track and keep records of complaints and to make that information publicly available.

(f) GRANT CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may not terminate, withhold, or delay the execution of a grant agreement for a grant or award (in part or in whole) made using funds made available under this Act (or an amendment made by this Act) on the basis that the grant or award no longer effectuates non-statutory program goals or agency priorities, including pursuant to section 200.340(a)(4) of title 2, Code of Federal Regulations.

(2) REPORTING PROCEDURES.—

(A) REPORT FORM.—The independent third party designated under paragraph (1) shall provide a reporting form to employees covered by a memorandum of understanding under subsection (a) to report each observed close call event in detail, including information such as the date, time, location, contributing factors, actions taken, along with any other information necessary to fully describe the event.

(c) SCREENING REQUIRED.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The designated independent third party shall conduct an initial screening of reports submitted under subsection (b) to determine if the initial close call report contains insufficient information to determine acceptance. If the designated independent third party determines that—

(2) DETERMINATION CRITERIA.—The PRT shall determine that the protection described under paragraph (1) is afforded to a reporting employee for a reported event unless 1 or more of the following conditions occurred:

(A) The report is rejected under subsection (c)(2)(B), or the PRT has information that was unavailable to the designated independent third party during the initial screening indicating the report should have been rejected under subsection (c)(2)(B).

(B) The employee's action or lack of action was intended to damage the railroad or another entity's operations or equipment or to injure other individuals, or intentionally place an individual in danger, including sabotage.

(g) RAILROAD PROTECTIONS.—

(1) CIVIL ENFORCEMENT ACTION.—The Administrator of the FRA shall afford the same protection from FRA civil enforcement action to a railroad involved in a close call event as the protection afforded to an employee reporting through the confidential close call reporting system for any event for which an accepted close call report is filed.

(2) EXCEPTION.—If an employee report falls under an exception under subsection (e)(2) and the reporting employee is not afforded protection, the employing railroad shall not receive protection from FRA civil enforcement.

(3) ID STRIP APPLICABILITY.—Upon availability of an ID strip for a close call event, the reporting employee shall present the ID strip to the charging railroad manager or supervisor. If such railroad manager or supervisor determines that the provided ID strip applies to the event, the railroad shall close the discipline portion of the investigation into the event. If the railroad manager or supervisor and employee do not agree that the ID strip is applicable to the event and the employee presents a copy of the ID strip to the PRT, the PRT shall determine whether the event qualifies for protection against discipline, certification revocation, and FRA civil enforcement under this section.

(4) DISMISSAL OF CHARGES.—If the PRT determines the event qualifies for discipline protection under this section, the railroad shall dismiss all charges or assessed discipline, including any revocation of certification, and all lost time shall be paid.

(5) NONQUALIFICATION FOR CERTAIN PROTECTION.—If the PRT determines the event does not qualify for discipline protection, the PRT shall advise the charging railroad manager or supervisor and the time limits for initiating disciplinary proceedings may commence. In the case of a disciplinary pro-

(a) PHASE-OUT SCHEDULE.—Beginning on December 31, 2028, no railroad tank car, regardless of the construction date of the railroad tank car, may be used to transport Class 3 flammable liquid in packing groups II or III (other than Class 3 flammable liquids listed in paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 7304(b) of the Hazardous Materials Transportation Safety Improvement Act of 2015 (49 U.S.C. 20155 note)), regardless of the composition of the train consist, unless such tank car meets or exceeds DOT–117, DOT–117P, or DOT–117R specification requirements, as in effect on the date of enactment of this Act.

(b) CONFORMING REGULATORY AMENDMENTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary—

(A) shall immediately remove or revise the date-specific deadlines in any applicable regulations or orders to the extent necessary to conform with the requirement under subsection (a); and

(B) may not enforce any date-specific deadlines or requirements that are inconsistent with the requirement under subsection (a).

(2) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Except as required under paragraph (1), nothing in this section may be construed to require the Secretary to issue regulations to implement this section.

(c) AMENDING THE PHASE-OUT DATE.—If the Secretary, based on the data contained in the report issued pursuant to subsection (d), determine that the phase-out date under subsection (a) cannot be met due to insufficient manufacturing capacity or would otherwise result in significant impacts to interstate commerce, the Secretary shall delay the phase-out scheduled under subsection (a) to May 1, 2029.

(d) GAO REVIEW.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall issue a report to the Secretary, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives, and the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate that—

(1) identifies the manufacturing capacity of tank car manufacturers in North America that manufacture tank cars to meet DOT–117 or DOT–117P specification requirements;

(2) identifies the retrofit capacity of tank car manufacturers and other entities in North America that can retrofit DOT–111 tank cars to meet DOT–117R specification requirements;

(3) estimates the schedule of replacing tank cars currently in service that are reaching the end of their life cycle;

(4) identifies the number of tank cars that need to be phased out or retrofitted under subsection (a) and the number that could be retrofitted; and

(5) estimates the demand for new tank cars.

SEC. 10612. REQUIREMENTS FOR SAFE TRANSPORT OF LITHIUM-ION BATTERIES.

Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall—

(1) work with the United Nation Subcommittee of Experts on the Transportation of Dangerous Goods to revise the provisions for design tests in subsection 38.3 of the UN Manual of Tests and Criteria to develop an impact test for lithium-ion cells or batteries installed and transported in cargo transport units and transported under UN 3536 to allow improved ability to withstand forces experienced in transport accidents without going into thermal runaway;

(2) issue such regulations as are necessary to amend section 173.185 of title 49, Code of Federal Regulations to—

(A) require lithium-ion cells or batteries (as defined in UN 3480) to be offered for commercial transport at a state of charge not exceeding 30 percent of the rated capacity of such cells or batteries (determined through the guidance and methodology under section 38.3.2.3 of the Manual of Tests and Criteria of the United Nations); and

(B) authorize the transportation of lithium-ion cells or batteries at a state of charge greater than 30 percent of the rated capacity of such cells or batteries only under conditions approved by the Associate Administrator for Hazardous Materials of the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration in accordance with the requirements in subpart H of part 107 of title 49, Code of Regulations;

(3) issue such regulations as are necessary or promulgate final guidance on the safe transportation of damaged, defective, or recalled lithium-ion cells or batteries, and such regulations or guidance shall include guidance on the packaging, movement, and disposal of damaged, defective, or recalled lithium-ion cells or batteries; and

(4) every 5 years, review the regulations and guidelines under this section and update such regulations and guidelines, as appropriate, to account for other emerging batteries or cells that pose a risk of thermal runaway as a result from a fire during commercial transport.

SEC. 10613. INNOVATIVE THERMAL RUN-AWAY SUPPRESSION STRATEGIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 5118(c)(3) of title 49, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in subparagraph (F) by striking ''and'' at the end;

(2) in subparagraph (G) by striking the period at the end and inserting ''; and''; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

''(H) thermal runaway of lithium-ion cells or batteries in commercial transport units, including—

''(i) the effectiveness of innovative technologies and methods to suppress such thermal runaway of lithium-ion cells or batteries in commercial transport units transported under UN 3536, including technologies and methods that do not use materials listed in table 302.4 of section 302.4 of title 40, Code of Federal Regulations, and identified by chemical abstracts service registry numbers 1763–23–1 and 335–67–1;

''(ii) the impact of the state of charge of a battery or cell on methods to suppress such thermal runaway; and

''(iii) methods for emergency responders to verify the state of charge of a battery or cell experiencing thermal runaway as a result of a fire or crash during commercial transport.''.

(b) OTHER ENTITIES.—Notwithstanding section 5118(c)(2) of title 49, United States Code, in addition to the National Academies, the Secretary may enter into agreements with facilities that specialize in fire suppression testing to carry out section 5118(c)(3)(H) of such title (as added by subsection (a)) and shall require from such facilities a report on the findings of any tests conducted pursuant to the agreement.

(c) RECOMMENDATIONS.—Not later than 120 days after the receipt of all reports for which an agreement was entered into under subsection (b), the Secretary shall review the findings submitted by entities described in subsection (b) and submit to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate a report containing—

(1) the findings detailed in each report, including which fire suppression tools and techniques were found to be most effective at suppressing thermal runaway resulting from a lithium-ion cell or battery fire;

(2) the impact of the state of charge of a battery on the techniques and tools studied under the agreement;

(3) information on the best methods to verify the state of charge of a lithium-ion battery or cell after a nonconsumptive event and how that information can inform decisions about how to safely mitigate thermal runaway; and

(4) recommendations on whether, based on such review, updated guidance or training of the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration is necessary.

(d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Of the amounts made available under section 5128(a) of title 49, United States Code, the Secretary shall withhold $2,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2027 through 2031 to enter into an agreement to carry out section 5118(c)(3)(H) of title 49, United States Code.
